Christine was a beautiful sweet neighbor always with a big smile and lived two houses down on Valentine Street, my name was Gail Mackey, grew up with the kids and when I had my daughter, Sheri, she babysit for me for a long time keeping her as a toddler while I worked during the week. I will forever be grateful for your friendship and had a big time growing up with Charles, Ronnie and Brenda. Christine, my mom and dad, Dorothy and Lucky Mackey are there with you now, prayers you are once again neighbors, Gail Mackey Cousins

Dear Beverly, Sharon, Brenda, Ronnie, Chuck, My heart and thoughts are with you in your time of grief. I don't believe any words or phrases I could offer will lift the weight, but my heartfelt condolences go out to each of you. Christine was special, and each of you will have special memories of her to carry in your and your minds. I was receiving periodic updates of her condition these past couple of years, and truly saddened by the news of her passing. She was a wonderful woman with a unique sense of humor, and she will be missed by all those blessed to have known her. Keep her memory alive by sharing your stories and anecdotes, and lean in to each other providing strength and bonding. Wishing you all peace and comfort, Russell Haynes

Christine Holcomb "My Grandma" I'm so happy I had the pleasure of meeting you and taking care of you, Christine came into my life at just the right time she didn't know it but she did, I needed her. I'll always remember you, from you letting me fix you up to you dancing and flirting with Beto, and that mouth of yours is what I loved the most, you always kept it REAL I miss you Grandma!!!! Love you always Roxanne Hernandez

Gramma,I would give anything to hear you say , "Hey there Petunia" like you always did every time I walked into your house. You said it once about a year and a half ago, maybe less, when I walked into the memory care facility to see you, do you remember? My heart lept for joy. That's the last time I ever heard you say that phrase and I will never forget it.I was cutting up an apple for lunch yesterday and I thought about all the times you offered to peel the skin off apples for me and Jared and Whitney as kids just because we didn't want to eat the skin. Do you know how many people I love enough to peel an apple for? No one. They can eat the skin or just not have an apple for all I care. But you loved me enough to stand there with a paring knife and peel an apple just for your picky grandkids anytime we wanted an apple.I couldn't say "remember when..." and reminisce with you for the past few years, but now I can and I know you can remember these things too.Remember our walks down your street? I see the moon and the moon sees me; God bless the moon and God bless me.Remember when me, mom, and Jared would stand on the balcony of our apartment and wave to you on your front porch every day?Remember me running behind the partition in the food line when you were a lunch lady just so I could tackle you with a hug? You were my favorite part of every day in school.Remember the house at the end of the street we always joked was yours and how we were gonna force the owners to give it up so you could move in? Remember saving baby birds and bunnies in the backyard?Remember getting me all amped up about your banana pudding on Thanksgiving and then dropping the entire dish on the driveway before making it into our house? 😊 I miss our phone conversations and dates on the couch watching weird documentaries that made you say gasp and exclaim, "goodnight, Hannah!" . I miss your hugs. I miss holding your hand. I miss you so very much Gramma.Please give Kittie a hug for me. I can't wait to see you again.I love you Mom Mom.

Grandma, I love you... I love you so much and like Mom said, you won. Thank you for everything you did for me and my siblings, thank you for showing us love no matter what we did. I'm going to miss you picking on me and being sarcastic with me, you always said what was on your mind and that's one of the many things I admired about you the most. I hope God gave you the warmest welcome and that's Granddaddy and all the people you cared about were right there beside them. I love you and miss you so so much.

Blessed are they that mourn, for they shall be comforted. Matthew 5 Words that will not fall upon deaf ears for those who knew this beautiful woman. I will miss you every day until God calls me home and I will lay eyes upon you once again. I cannot wait for the day I can call you Virgi once again and have you chase me around the pearly gates trying to slap me. I love you grandma. May God greet you as a friend, you deserve nothing less.

Mom. So much to say and I don't have the words to say it But we won mama didn't we? We fought dementia for 8long years and you are the victor. I would have done anything for you. So many funny memories and I'm at a loss for words. Just know I love you to the moon and back, to infinity and beyond and forever and always. I'll miss you more than you know. Until I see you again.

I never met you one on one but somehow I did meet you via your amazing daughter who till this day carries your presence with her. Through her I have no doubt you were an Angel on earth. It hurts to know that you have exited world but the memories of you will last forever. Though hearts are hurting, aching but knowing you are now safe in the arms of Jesus is comforting. Till we meet, rest, rest in the arms of Jesus.
