His last words of hope is those of you that are not baptized in Jesus's name and speak with tongues as the spirit give utterance would accept Jesus Christ into your life for this is the only way. A poem just for you.

True Love

Thank you dear God, for being so kind, You gave your son, for these sins of mine. The price He paid, was a great cost, but if He had not died, I would have been lost. I believe now, without a doubt, before Jesus came, there was no way out. While He was here, he tried many ways, to teach the people, what God to praise. But they wouldn't listen, to what He said, so He walked the water, and raised the dead. But they still doubted, and wouldn't be aroused, so He took a few fish, and fed several thousand. Now the kings wondered, who can this man be? He makes the mute to talk, and the blind to see. They ordered Him arrested, and brought to trial, they could find no wrong, and the crowd went wild. Give Him to us, cried all of them. We'll take Him to Calvary and crucify Him, Hail King of Jews they all cried, and nail Him to the cross and pierce His side. And so it was done, just as the prophets had said, then the third day He arose from the dead. This poem may not be good, but every word is true, I believe Jesus died for me, how about you?
