We were at a family Reunion in 2019. The venue was very crowded with our cheerful loving extended family. I was actively serving food etc and assisting others and publically orally giving some FAMILY HISTORY. I was away from the table in which my immediate family sat for quite awhile. There was no longer any room for me to sit next to my husband and son. My dear cousin Anthony perceived the situation and gave up his seat which was where my immediate family sat. That melted my heart. So loving. Impressive. That was so comforting and welcoming! I hope to never forget him nor his genuine love and kindness. Love, Couson Marsheila Anderson & Family
