As kids, we'd climb the big tree that was in front of his home and race to see who'd get on faster. We'd also just chill up there and talk about whatever came to mind. In that same field we'd play tag or football til it got dark. We'd always play in the baseball fields where the town hall is at now til the street lights came on. We'd play basketball at Andreas home or the small church on 1st. What great memories with a kind soul. You'll be missed Eric
